THE BALDWIN PEAR The Above Photo Represents NATURE'S WONDERFUL GIFT TO MAN

Some fifty years ago there were planted on the grounds of the Baldwin House, in Baldwin, Kansas, a few pear trees which are in perfect condition.

The form of the tree is of excellent shape, with many branches and fruit.

The fruit of the Baldwin is excellent in flavor, and is a good keeper, and because of its unusual size, it is a good gift.

The Pear will produce over 100 pounds of fruit per tree, and if all the fruit is dried, a most delicious and edible pear could be had.

The tree is approximately 50 years old, and has a trunk diameter of about 35 inches, with a spread of 35 feet.

The tree is now over 100 years old, and is still in excellent condition.
